

Family Violence Policy

Narrative

Family violence is a serious societal issue that poses significant harm to the health and wellbeing of our community and renders its victims vulnerable.

Commenting on the effects of family violence on victims, the report of the 2016 Royal Commission into Family Violence concluded that family violence:

can cause terrible physical and psychological harm, particularly to women and children. It destroys families and undermines communities. Sometimes children who have directly experienced family violence or have been exposed to it go on to become victims or perpetrators of violence later in life, so that the effect of family violence is passed to the next generation.

About Underwriting Pty Ltd (ABN: 78 608 848 479 AFSL: 48321) is committed to supporting those experiencing family violence, as well as doing our part to deter the perpetuation of this conduct in the broader community.

Definition of Family Violence

About Underwriting accepts and adopts the definition of family violence as set out in Section 5 of the Family Violence Protection Act 2008 (VIC), being behaviour by a person towards a family member of that person if that behaviour—

- is physically or sexually abusive; or
- is emotionally or psychologically abusive; or
- is economically abusive; or
- is threatening; or
- is coercive; or
- in any other way controls or dominates the family member and causes that family member to feel fear for the safety or wellbeing of that family member or another person; or
- behaviour by a person that causes a child to hear or witness, or otherwise be exposed to the effects of, behaviour referred to above.
